INVITED EDITORIAL COMMENTS
Harry M. Markowitz and Brian Jacobsen

Standing Out From the Crowd: Measuring Crowding in Quantitative Strategies
Rochester Cahan and Yin Luo

Managing Private Fund-Based Portfolios: A Search for Rebalancing Strategies
Mark C. Szigety

Is the Diversification Benefit of Frontier Markets Realizable by Mean-Variance Investors? The Evidence of Investable Funds
Dave Berger, Kintara Pukthuanthong, and J. Jimmy Yang

The Devil in HML’s Details
Clifford Asness and Andrea Frazzini

Earnings Quality Revisited
Jennifer Bender and Frank Nielsen

Which Component of Treasury Yields Belongs in Equity Valuation Models?
An Application to the S&P 500
J. Benson Durham

The Surprising Alpha From Malkiel’s Monkey and Upside-Down Strategies
Robert D. Amott, Jason Hsu, Vitali Kalesnik, and Phil Tindall

Is There Alpha in Institutional Emerging-Market Equity Funds?
Wenling Lin

Create or Buy: A Comparative Analysis of Liquidity and Transaction Costs for Selected U.S. ETFs
Milan Borkovec and Vitaly Serbin

Fundamentally Weighted Global Small Companies
Peter M. Bull

Portfolio Concentration and the Geometry of Co-Movement
Wesley Phoa

The Voices of Influence | iiournals.com