PRESS RELEASE

KewMann is Announcing the Launch of Newly Redesigned Website!

Kuala Lumpur, 16 Apr 2021 – KewMann, an AI and behavioural science company in Asia is announcing the launch of its new website. The purpose of the new website launch is to provide visitors with more targeted messaging and value positioning about KewMann's company goals, product perspectives, and, customers success stories. We would like to thank industry analysts, peers and associates who provide valuable feedback for the revamped website.

The visual design of the website is also being enhanced to provide a clearer view for the visitors to easily understand the messaging and value that KewMann would like to deliver by emphasizing the contents with colours, animated illustrations and clean design.
