About usernames & (new) passwords...

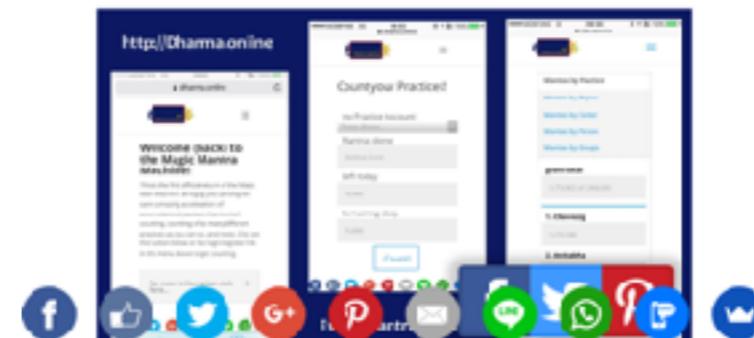

Key updates from Mani Project 2015

- There are now passwords protecting the system and data. This means you'll have to choose a password and remember it, and every once in a while log in again. (If you're using the same browser on the same device and don't explicitly log out, you should be able to just return to the counting page without logging in anew.)
- You can now (potentially) count any practice, not just Manis. However, by default your practice is set to Chenrezig, if you've only joined last year or if you are newly joining now.
- You can change your center in your profile.
- We've added the feature "Dedications," which allows you to request dedications and wishes be made either by everyone or only by the teacher, and to make wishes and dedications for others' requests, basically multiplying the merit of your practice.
- Lastly, to help with increasing the merit and spread the word, and get as many friends to join the accumulation as possible we've created a small Facebook share function that will appear every time you have logged a count, or made an offering. Please use it. Every single Mani contributed by someone who wouldn't otherwise have joined is not just one more Mani in the accumulation but it also means that that friend shares equally in the merit of the whole accumulation. What a gift to give. And Facebook makes it so easy.

Welcome (back) to the Magic Mantra Machine! ✨

This is the first official return of the Magic Mani Machine. Bringing you (among the same amazing acceleration of accumulations) password-protected counting, counting of as many different practices as you can do, and more. Click on the button below or the login/register link in the menu above to get counting.

Username & (new) passwords

- If you have joined the Mani Project 2015 and used our “Magic Mani Machine” you can continue with the same email address you used back then. Please use the password reset service to have a password mailed to you, unless...
 - If you have been a dharma-elearning.net member for a while already, you may be able to log in with the same credentials you are using there. The two systems are currently not synchronized, so password changes in one system do not affect the other.
 - If you have used a different email address here and on dharma-elearning.net, it would be quite helpful if you could now use the same username as on dharma-elearning.net, as we are planning to merge the two platforms sometime in the future and not having to match different usernames on top of everything else would make a lot easier.
- Of course if you used a fictional email address to count during the Mani Project 2015, this won't work, in that case simply create a new account and contact us to let us know the old and the new so we can prepare to connect the dots during that later stage.

Come on in to the Magic Mantra Machine!

Remember Me

Find the part of the form that is titled, "...or register a new account (free):" and fill in the following fields

- Email: use a valid email, double-check your spelling -- take note of this, this will be your username
- Repeat Email: enter the same email again (the system doesn't validate this, so, please also be careful)
- Password (two times): choose a new password to login at dharma.online in the future' do NOT use the password for your email account or any other password you are using in other places' if possible use a combination of upper- and lowercase letters, numbers, and special characters like %$#@& (Tip: choose a medium-length word you can easily remember and capitalize the first letter, then replace one or more characters by special characters, and add a number at the end, e.g., "washing machine" could become w@$ch1ngMach!ne -- do not use this exact password, though. Repeat it in the second field. This one the system will check and only accept if the two match.

Displayname & Verification

- Displayname: you can use your first name or a nickname or your Dharma name; we'd like to encourage the use of Dharma names
- Verification (the last section that has the "Register" button in it): this is a safeguard against software robots automatically creating accounts for spam purposes. Click in the box and in most cases that should change to a check mark after a few moments, upon which you can click "Register." If it doesn't, it will display a small grid of images and ask you to identify the images with some specific object in them. If you misunderstand or don't quite recognize the right pictures, you will be given a new puzzle. If you really can't get past this, drop us a line at alaya@dharma.online and we'll set up an account for you.
- After you hit "Register" you will find yourself in the same screen again with the message that you have successfully registered. Now please use the "Log in..." section of the form to log in.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL <https://dharma.online/come-on>. The page is titled "Registration for" and contains two main sections:

- Membership Type : A dropdown menu with "Practitioner" selected.
- Displayname : A text input field. Below it, a message reads: "This is how you will appear to other members."

The second section is titled "Verification" and contains the instruction: "Please click on the checkbox below*". A red arrow points to a checkbox labeled "I'm not a robot". To the right of the checkbox is the reCAPTCHA logo and the text "reCAPTCHA Privacy - Terms". At the bottom of the form is a "Register" button.

First Time Login: "Just one more thing..."

- First-time login: "Just one more thing...": here you are asked to select your center and a first practice you want to accumulate from the drop-down lists. For the Mani Project we've preselected "Chenrezig," so all you need to do after selecting your center is to click on "Update!"
- (A note for the curious: please do not track any of the synonyms for Chenrezig you may find in the list. They are not counted for the Mani Project at this time.)

Just one more thing...

...or two, and then you're ready to count...

Before you can enter your first count, you need to select your center and a first practice (or add them if they aren't in the list yet):

(You can change your center and add more practices at any time in Profile in the menu above.)

Update!

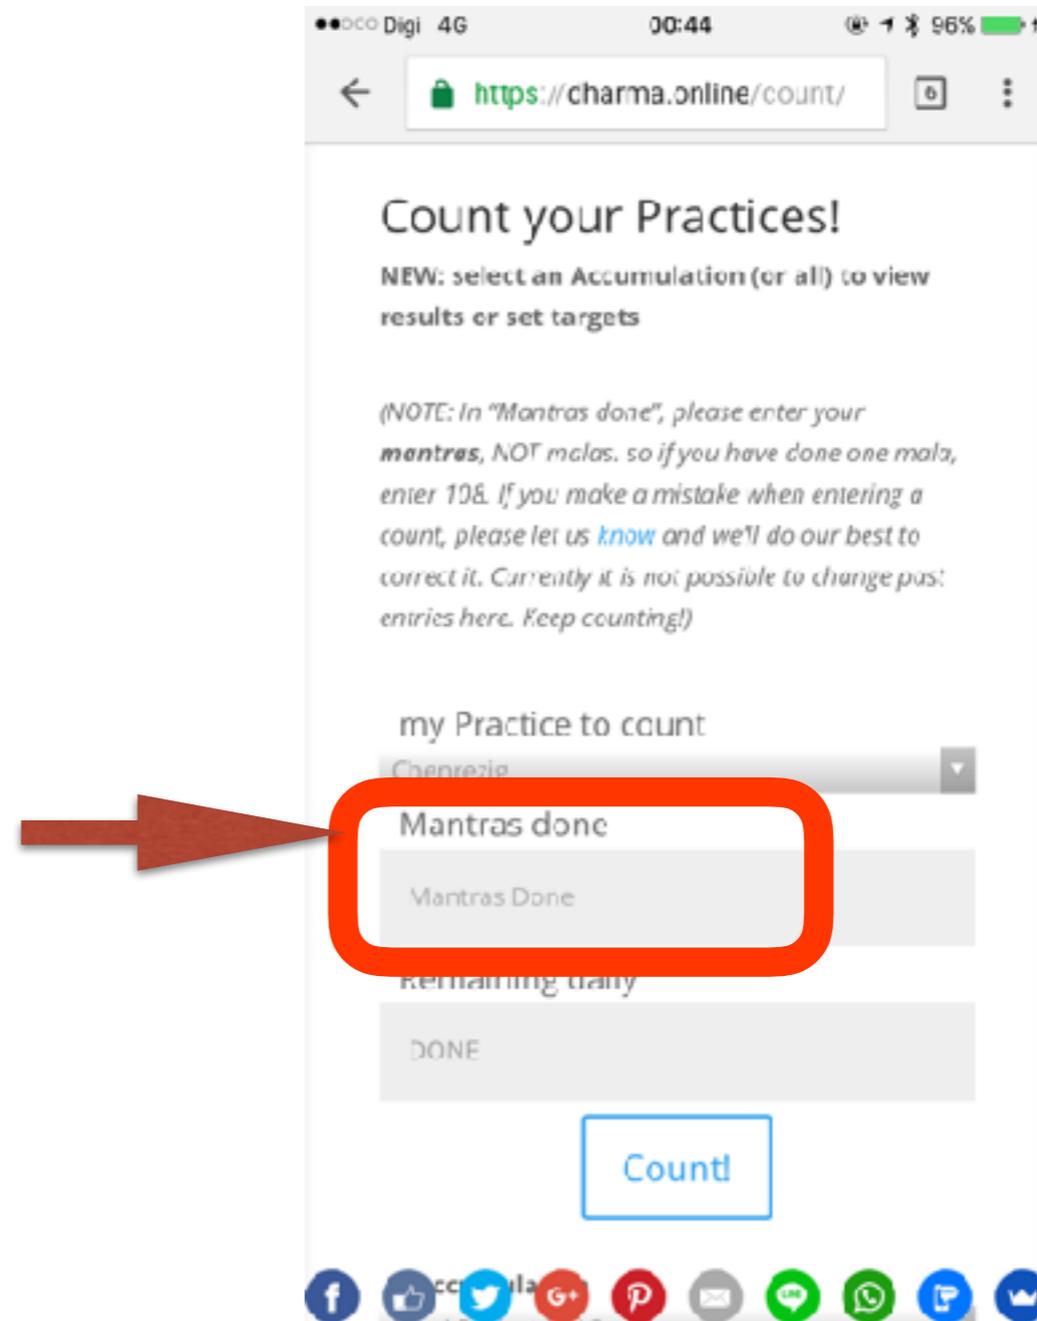

The full menu after logging in

- Count! is where you'll be spending most of your time. It's actually set as home page for logged-in users.
- Dedication is a new feature explained in more detail a little further down.
- More is the list page with all the accumulated numbers by person, center, region, etc..
- Merit is for those who would like to add some extra merit to their practice by supporting this project,
- Whenever you have questions, turn to the first two items under info, and if you can't find an answer, use the third and contact us. We're happy to help.
- In the account section you can edit your profile to change your center or practices, etc., change your passwords and logout. (Unless you are in a shared computer logging out is not necessary.)

How and what to count

- When you log in or return to the app you should automatically land on the "Count!" Page. If you don't, use the menu to get there.
- You can now count and accumulate as many different practices as you are actually doing. If you are only practicing Chenrezig, e.g., during the Mani Project, you can leave this function alone for now. However, if you are still doing another practice or three and would like to track those, go to "Account - Edit Profile" and there to the tab "my Practices."
- To repeat what has been mentioned already at this point, for those who do like to explore: if you want your Manis counted in the Mani Project, only use the practice "Chenrezig," and not any of the synonyms you may find in the system.
- Most importantly, and this cannot be stressed enough, please count MANTRAS, i.e., if you have completed one mala, count 108 (or 100 if you like to round things down to compensate for mistakes.) Do NOT under any circumstances whatsoever, enter Malas. Or you basically lose 99% of your results as only one MANTRA is counted where you intended to count a whole mala, or 100 mantras.

After the counting, make it count.

- When you hit the Count! button, an additional part of the page is loaded with a little thank you message and two buttons.
 - To help with increasing the merit and spread the word, and get as many friends to join the accumulation as possible we've created a small Facebook share function that will appear every time you have logged a count, or made an offering. Please use it. Every single Mani contributed by someone who wouldn't otherwise have joined is not just one more Mani in the accumulation but it also means that that friend shares equally in the merit of the whole accumulation. What a gift to give. And Facebook makes it so easy.
- The other button is a reminder and a link to help you both dedicate and request dedications from others.

Count your Practices!

NEW: select an Accumulation (or all) to view results or set targets

(NOTE: In "Mantras done", please enter your mantras, NOT malas. so if you have done one mala, enter 108. If you make a mistake when entering a count, please let us know and we'll do our best to correct it. Currently it is not possible to change past entries here. Keep counting!)

Your mantras have been counted, thank you.
May the benefits of your practice become limitless! Now spread the word to accumulate even more merit by dedicating it all!

Check your balances on the count page and drill down from there

- The lower part of the count page shows you your personal balance, broken down by practice, and a comparison with your center and the grand total
- Use the "Accumulation" drop down list to select the Mani Project 2016 and filter the results accordingly.
- Click on more to explore how the rest of the world is doing.

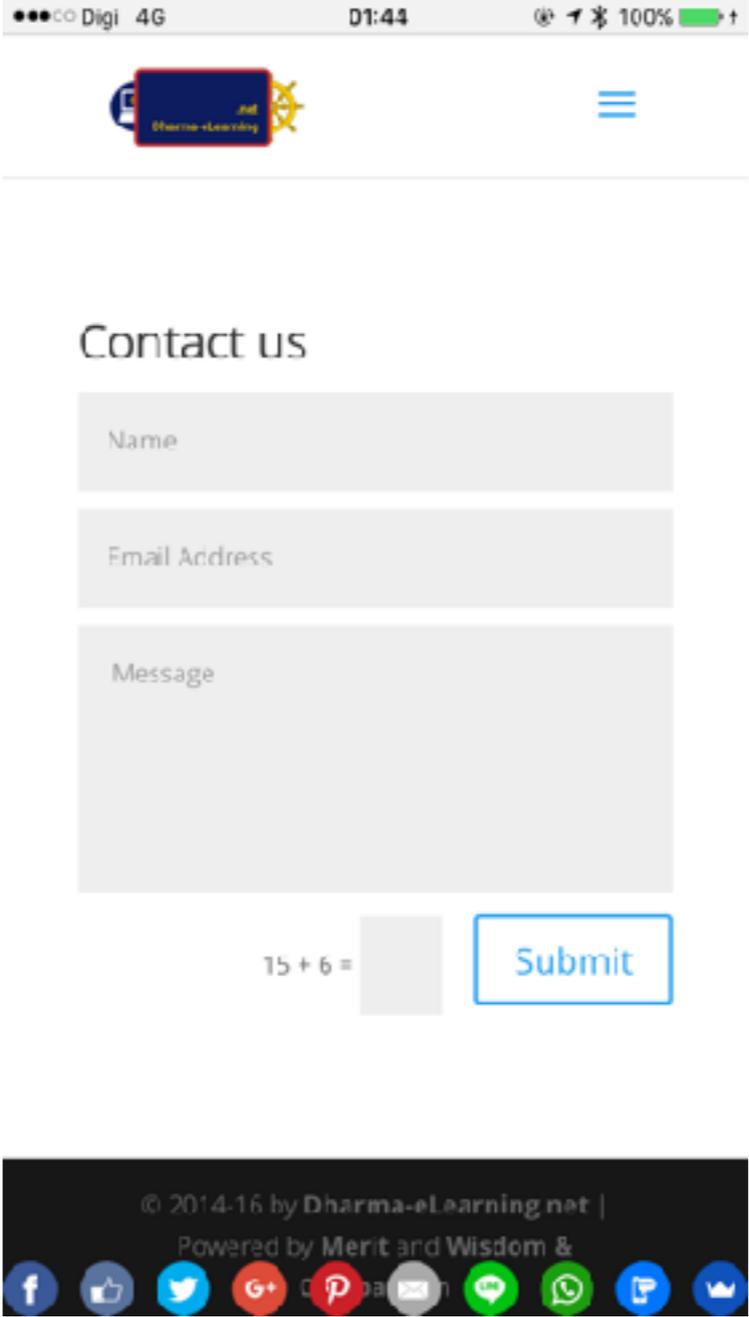

The screenshot displays a web interface for 'Accumulation' with a dropdown menu set to 'Mani Project 2016'. Below this, a section titled 'Total Practices Count' lists four categories, each with a corresponding grey bar showing a value of 0:

- my Total (all practices)
- my Chenrezig
- my Center total (all practices)
- grand total (all practices)

At the bottom of this section, a blue button labeled 'More...' is highlighted with a red rounded rectangle. A red arrow points from the left towards this button.

If you have any questions or feedback or comments...

- We are happy to help, and we are grateful for feedback.
- Contact us by email at alaya@dharma.online
- Or use the form within the app (under Contact in the menu).

The screenshot shows a mobile application interface. At the top, the status bar displays 'Digi 4G', '01:44', and '100%' battery. Below the status bar is a navigation bar with a logo on the left and a hamburger menu icon on the right. The main content area is titled 'Contact us' and contains a form with three input fields: 'Name', 'Email Address', and 'Message'. Below the 'Message' field is a small math problem '15 + 6 =' and a 'Submit' button. At the bottom of the screen, there is a footer with copyright information: '© 2014-16 by Dharma-eLearning net | Powered by Merit and Wisdom &'. Below the footer is a row of social media icons for Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Google+, Pinterest, Email, WhatsApp, Telegram, and Instagram.
