Now let us start by discussing each section -

SSC MultiTasking Staff examination is just 9 weeks away. It is always better to utilize time in an optimized manner in order to get better results. The aspirants had already been motivation level; Just the area to work upon is leveling of preparation up to the Mark. There will be a huge difference between Paper I and Paper II preparation even if the subject wise distribution is same.

Let us now try to formulate SSC MultiTasking Staff Exam Study Plan according to the sections contained in SSC MTS 2017 Paper I.

SSC MTS 2017: Quantitative Aptitude

Quantitative Aptitude is considered to be the arch nemesis of almost every Govt. Job Aspirant (if it is not the case with you, believe us, we are so happy for you). Many aspirants have missed their dream job because they were; somehow, unable to clear sectional cut offs, primarily in the section we are talking about. There will be no sectional cutoff in this Exam but this section can take your score to a different Level

Compartmentalization of topics is very important. One must know the topics one is comfortable with – from least to most. One also needs to know as to what could be the level of difficulty of questions; one can handle in an examination scenario.

Just to make you understand, say I am extremely confident with percentage related problem. Irrespective of level of difficulty, I know in my heart that I would be able to do solve the problem. I also have also realized during my preparation that I can solve easy to moderate level questions from TSD (Time, Speed and Distance). And, the moment I see a question from Probability, I feel nauseated. One has to have an understanding of this level pertaining to one's preparation to sail through test without much trouble.

Keep a notebook with yourself where you write important points and formulas. This will assist you revisiting the most vital points and formulas on your exam day. It can be considered as an Ideal Methodology but reading it exactly in same pattern is mandatory. It is just like a best recommendation for an Aspirant.

Topic	No of expected questions	Allocation of hours (Total hours – 20)
Sequence and Series	3-4	2
Quadratic Equation	2-3	2
Simplification, Surds & Indices, Decimals	3-4	2
Mensuration (Perimeter, area and volume related problems)	2-3	2
Linear equation	2-3	1
Probability, Permutations & Combinations	1-2	1
Percentages, Profit and Loss	1-2	1

Simple and Compound Interest	1-2	1
Ratio and Proportion (with replacement problems)	1-2	1
Average, Mixture & Allegation	1-2	1
Number system (LCM and HCF, last digit concept, factors and factorials, divisibility rule, properties of numbers)	1-2	2
Time and work (including pipes and cistern)	1-2	1
Time, Speed and Distance (Boats and streams, Train problems, Games and Races, Circular motion)	1-2	1

This classification is covering the complete syllabus as per mentioned by SSC MTS Official Notification. Try to dedicate time to every section as you are having sufficient time to prepare.

SSC MTS 2017: Reasoning

The best part of preparing for the reasoning section is that it can be solved by using common sense (Indeed, it is not so common). One's presence of mind is more than sufficient to solve these problems and one can score very heavily in this section by having a strategy in place resulting in achieving the overall cut-off for the exam.

While building concepts and solving questions, there should be no time limit or pressure. Ideally, one should try one's best to solve 20+ questions on each topic (attempt section tests). Focus majorly on the verbal section but there might be few Usual Reasoning Sections

Let us see analyse the section wise allocation of timing

Topic	No of expected questions	Allocation of hours (Total hours – 20)
Sitting Arrangement (Circular/Linear)	5	3
Blood Relationship Problems	2	2
Coding- Decoding	2	2
Visual Reasoning (Various Topics)	15	10
Miscellaneous	2-5	3

SSC MTS 2017: General Awareness

This section will be the Game Changer for the Examination as Govt Job Aspirants generally try to make it with the help of other sections and keeping GA Section just for sectional. We can conclude easily those students having proper preparation of General Awareness Section are already a step ahead of other aspirants.

General Awareness is something that cannot be improved in a day. Aspirants have to dedicate 1 hour daily to this portion in order to improve his level of preparation for this section.

List of Important Topics as per Exam will be as follows:

Topic	No of expected questions	Allocation of hours (Total hours – 20)
Current Affairs	5	Read Newspaper Every day, 30 minutes every week to revise Current Affairs
Static Affairs	25	6
Subject Based (History, Geography, Polity, Economics)	20	5 (1 hour to each subject)

SSC MT 2017: English

This section will be the Major Portion of the Examination. It will be based on Objective Questions based on Grammar and Non-Grammar. English section is always impulsive in nature hence a candidate while preparing for this section should structure the strategy for this section so that no guesses to be made while attempting this section.

SSC MTS English Section will include 50 Question i.e. 33% of the complete Exam.

English Non Grammar Section is something that cannot be improved in a day. Aspirants have to dedicate 1 hour daily to this portion in order to improve his level of preparation for this section.

List of Important Topics as per Exam will be as follows:

Topic	No of expected questions	Allocation of hours (Total hours – 20)
Reading Comprehension	2-4	1
Spotting the Error	10	5
Non Grammar Section (Vocabulary, One Word Substitution, Synonym Antonym)	20	7
Fill In the Blanks	6-8	3
Other Grammar Portion	10	4
