

Assessment

A commitment to transparency is critical to our approach to assessments. We give our partners visibility to risk because when the risks are known they can be effectively addressed and managed. However, robust, transparent audits are not just a tick-the-box exercise.

ELEVATE goes beyond audits and offers a bridge to improvement. We encourage our partners to optimize assessments by integrating them through Corrective Action Plan (CAP) Management, Worker Surveys and Engagement and eLearning. With this total activation approach, it's not only about process. We address the issues from several perspectives and provide reliable, measurable criteria to support our findings and recommendations.

Our labor and environmental compliance assessments are executed by local, well trained, and experienced field staff who have a clear understanding of regional and country specific trends and challenges. Our team is focused and calibrated to conduct superior assessments that drive transparency for better decision-making and clarity.

Beyond Audit

While auditing has been a catalyst for sustainable change, we advocate a broader approach. We know that factories can be audited excessively, resulting in audit fatigue and unnecessary cost. The quality of audits can vary significantly. We know that in the cases like the Rana Plaza and Tazreen tragedies, auditing failed.

We are at the forefront of leading the industry from an audit only model to what we call the beyond audit, or audit plus model. More holistic approaches enable employers to be better employers through capacity building, improved management systems and training. Beyond audit means that worker well-being, worker voice, productivity and stability are vital to sustainable operations and economic growth.

ELEVATE's beyond audit approach focuses on fewer audits that are more professional and of higher quality plus the integrated consulting services prior to and following the audit that form part of the continuous improvement process.

Integrity

Integrity underpins everything we do and everything we stand for. Without a commitment to integrity, our actions hurt the industry, workers, as well as our reputation. As a founding member of the Association of Professional Social Compliance Auditors (APSCA), we not only hold ourselves to the highest ethical standards, we are committed to building a more professional and accountable industry.

ELEVATE administers the following:

- Auditor training and reference materials specifically covering report writing
- Document control process to ensure the most recent document revisions are being used consistently
- Client specific instructions and example reports
- 100% percent non-local quality control and report view process for new programs until a consistent level of reporting is established
- Periodic review of final reports with the client to ensure we understand the client's requirements and are executing to the client's expectations
- 100% local quality control and report review process
