Description:

Literature, education, experience and success are parts of our stories we like to share with others. By connecting them, we learn and teach how to apply at work and home. We use these connections to identify problems and find ways to solve them. We form and use our networks of people and information, to build our strengths and help others to do the same. This webinar is all about sharing personal journey of growing up, getting education, working in India and the US; looking back and forward at lessons learned and applied.

Presenter:

Gopal Chotani, Ph.D.
DuPont Fellow, Industrial Biosciences
