

ANOTHER EPISODE LARGER THAN KOYEMBEDU GETTING OPENED

This is only an old man's view!

Yet another epidemic door is being opened via TASMAL in TN. They come, they buy, they drink and they enjoy their happiness to be on the road by blocking the vehicles, by rubbing the passerby and even the ladies will not be spared.

The government very well knows how much cultured we Indians are including TN.

If the TN authorities watch videos being shown in different channels over the liquor shop sales with the shutdown in different states, where the rushing people are carrying bottles in dozens without any restrictions. It may not be even consumed by the person who purchases such quantities, but will be and is being carried to red alert areas and sold at almost three times the price.

We are witnessing the reports against the police in handling the public. After all what they also can do except waiting for the closing hours.

As per the order, the 6' distance and only 5 people will be allowed in the shop and there will be no bars in the shop. It can be witnessed with the bar operating thru the rear door.

The waiters may be seen from miles ahead from the shop thus every shop may require a minimum of 20 police personnel as the entire road will be blocked by the moving "KUDIMAGANGAL".

No wonder if there are some murders to snatch from the one who happens to be lucky ones.

There will be more domestic/ societal violence requiring special polices for that duty.

People will automatically forget about the COVID-19 after drinking and others because they will be worried about the atrocities around by the drunkards.

This being a partial opening all transports will carry as much as possible for the TN red zones since they would like to make the money when Rome is burning.

Rest I leave it to the expectations of others, who was getting and will be getting the brunt of drinking.

If at all the Govt. is worried over the revenue, these shops could be opened somewhere outside the residential areas, away from the panchayat, municipal & corporation limits. Those very much for drinking will go early in the morning and will come back before 2 pm. How many will go?

The supply should be against the voter ID / Aadhaar/other IDs with PHOTO and issuing through a Token system (one liter per person/ week) at the rate of 2 tokens per fortnight by stamping the dates on the token. This system will arrest illegal purchasing, selling, and reduce domestic and societal violence. Like ration shop limited to 200 persons per day, so that others don't rush to the shop. Limit the registration also to 200 every day and issue date wise. Instruction to be issued to the individual that if they are found on the road drunk they will be behind the bar for 2 days without any ration except water.

First day sale in Karnataka is 45 Crores. Kindly look down at the buyer bill on the first day.

The government is most worried about the people who drink, but not the real god-fearing people to go to temples for praying against CORONA-19.

Temples do not hold that much vote like the TASMAL. Poor GOD we pity YOU!

PLEASE RECONSIDER! ECONOMY CAN BE REBUILT, BUT NOT THE HUMAN LIVES AND RUINED FAMILIES.

This bill pertains to one buyer at Bangaluru on the opening on 04-05-2020

Nothing odd. It will be only an odd thing if you find a bill for a single bottle.
