The Dignity of Restoring Bridges

Sin has separated people from one another. That separation remains because of hurts and distrust. Like Horton, let us start building bridges instead of judging people who are "smaller" than us because of their status or the sins they have committed.

Directions: Answer the following questions. Write your answer on a 1 whole sheet of pad paper.

1. Imagine that you are an architect, and you have been tasked to design a bridge.
2. Draw your bridge in a whole sheet of paper. Make your bridge creative.
3. After drafting the bridge, think of one person whom you have quarreled with. There is no need to write the name of the person on your drawing.
4. On top of your bridge, write every good thing you remember that he or she has done to you.
