Notice

For the betterment of the examination and evaluation purposes, new answer scripts would be provided during the odd semester examinations 2019-20.

The scripts are of 32 pages like the previous ones but size is little large. All pages contain faded lines/rules for convenience of the students. However, they may use the same as per their comfort and may write above the lines, draw sketches, write equations.

The scripts would be scanned before evaluation, therefore, no page should be torn. Graph papers, if used should be fixed inside the last page after writing name, roll number and UPID in the top right corner of the paper, and get verified by the invigilators.

For the better understanding, students are advised to follow the Demo Script and make a practice, if feel so, to avoid any mistake during examinations.

1. Students should read the instructions properly.

2. Student must write their stream in words

3. Darken the session of examinations

4. Write the date of examination

5. Write Paper name

6. Write Paper Code

7. Write Semester

8. Write Student Name

9. Write and Darken the UPID as mentioned in the admit card beside subject code. It's a five digit numeric code. This code will also be available in the question paper. Any mismatch must be reported to the invigilator for clarification.

10. Write and Darken Roll no. as mentioned in admit card.

11. Write Registration number as mentioned on admit card. In case, registration certificate is not available, you may write applied for (A/F).

12. Put signature in proper place.

13. Get it verified by the invigilators.

 No other fields to be filled by the Students.

In case of any doubt student should take the help of invigilator for filling up the details and guidance.

Students are advised to avoid any mistake. However, in case of any mistake, that may be rectified by using white pen or write afresh after pen through the wrong information.

Students should not disclose their identity in any place inside the scripts to avoid disqualification.
A true demo copy is provided for the students for their reference.

It is also to be mentioned that no new rules regarding examination are introduced from this session in respect of answer scripts.

All students are advised to maintain discipline during the examinations.

On behalf of the University, we wish all students successful performance in the examinations.
