NEW WORLD MILLENNIUM HONG KONG HOTEL UNVEILS RENOVATED FACILITIES AND EVENT SPACES

New World Millennium Hong Kong Hotel recently revealed a stylish facelift, unveiling new guestrooms, lobby, lounge and freshened event spaces. The renovation elevates the quality standards of hotel facilities with a contemporary flair and enhances the hotel's reputation as an iconic five-star landmark on the Tsim Sha Tsui skyline.

The hotel's renovated lobby illustrates the essence of contemporary hotel design yet conveys residential warmth. Wooden feature wall panels, made of Hong-Kong-debuted hexagonal walnut timber "Alexander" tiles from London-based Giles Miller Studio, are installed at the front desk and the lift lobby, delivering different visual effects thanks to the varying angled faces of the tiles laid in formations under special lighting effects. In the centre of the lobby stands an iconic art piece – a wavy bronze column – which is hand-fabricated by the metal artist and sculptor John Searles from the USA, with beautiful golden-hued surfaces that catch and reflect light from its every facet. Marble flooring and walls in light beige, a high ceiling, use of light troughs, as well as natural daylight streaming through from the window façade also attribute to the interior spaciousness of the lobby.

Guests can see The Lounge on the mezzanine floor from the lobby, through a see-through metal oriental-styled decorative screen doubling duty as a divider of space permitting daylight to filter through and as acting as a piece of art itself. The Lounge is a contemporary yet cosy "living space" environment conveying a sense of residential comfort within the bustling Tsim Sha Tsui East district. A warm and fresh colour palette complements floor-to-ceiling windows that allow natural daylight to stream through. Here, guests can enjoy simple and light meals, afternoon tea and beverages, while socialising comes easy with its welcoming ambience and versatile seating.

The freshened meeting and event spaces including Grand Ballroom and Event Room provide inspiring venues for hosting any kinds of events guests could envision. A modern and warm earthy-tone colour scheme is adopted in combination with materials like crystal chandeliers, mirrors, wood and matt metal surfaces throughout the interior décor to add contemporary and welcoming touches to the spaces.

The hotel also launched 88 newly renovated spacious guestrooms in early 2016, which are of contemporary décor with simple lines and earthy tones. Each guestroom is designed to offer deluxe accommodation with an emphasis on comfort, and equipped with modern amenities, including a WASHLET in the bathroom.

The hotel's lobby, event spaces and guestrooms are designed by Henmax Interiors Limited, a design house operating in Hong Kong, China and Singapore; while The Lounge is designed by a Hong Kong-based design firm Nude Design Limited.

The lighting scheme of the lobby and lounge is designed by the internationally acclaimed lighting designer Mr. Tino Kwan, and significantly enhances the sense of welcome once the guest steps into the hotel.

Aside from the upgrade in hardware, New World Millennium Hong Kong Hotel promises to provide guests with genuine service, delivered with elegant efficiency.
