Do my Coding Assignment

A very clear topic on hacker's thesis is computer and computer hacking. Computers are very complex and seem to be difficult to learn, but if you have time, your computer will be very convenient and very interesting. Have you heard all those strange computer terms? For example, Javascript. Javascript is basically a computer language used when writing Internet web pages. Have you ever been to the internet and have you seen texts or videos on the screen? It is all done in the Java language - do my coding assignment.

We all asked that Web sites and companies were hacked. But what does "hacking" mean? In the original version, hackers simply meant finding new ways to do things with computers and software. This can be a good thing (improving the performance of something) or a bad thing (finding a computer you can not access). Today, hackers are used as a generic phrase for all kinds of malicious activity, such as data breach, web page fouling, bank fraud. Usually, even the attacker's programming skill is not involved. It is also used as an excuse for defamation. Would you like to post some words that you regret saying to social media? "Sorry, my account has been hacked"

Today, new problems are spreading to hackers. Since the platform trades a huge amount of money, hackers are ready to crack these people's accounts. Social media marketing provides interfaces to users and protects user information and funds. And we use it as a distributed approach. Social media marketing also provides experts to protect user accounts from hacking activities. Therefore, we developed a security system as a few steps to provide high security to the owner. Social media marketing has developed a simple communication system because average people and corporate organizations work together- help with html coding. Therefore, attracting people's attraction through this platform is easy. People can share opinions and suggestions on social media marketing platforms such as chat, text messages, video calls, videoconferencing, and conference calls. This opportunity will take people to business organizations and promote people's wish operations