Pelago is looking for an experienced FULL STACK developer

Pelago is a mobile-first platform for creating, managing and promoting social events.

Our vision is to create the next-generation social events platform to attract the best audiences for organizers worldwide.

We are looking for an experienced and passionate backend API developer to join our team. With Pelago, you will have the chance to employ your existing technical skills and push your skills and experience to new levels.

As a key member of the team you will have a direct influence on the technology design of the Pelago platform.

- Work with the Pelago business and technology team, fellow technology experts and clients in the market to produce a world-class scalable platform
- Take a leadership role on the product development of our Pelago cloud-based engine
- Apply your innovative development skills and techniques while working with app and web developers to create the best user experience possible for the product

This is an opportunity to push your boundaries in software engineering and grow personally and professionally with a small like-minded team of entrepreneurs creating their own future.

Requirements
- Strong understanding of micro service design patterns and experience architecting high-volume transactional platforms
- In-depth knowledge and experience developing enterprise applications in a Java development environment
- A strong appreciation for web technologies and their application to high performance systems
- Experience using cloud-based backend hosting services for web services, API services, database services and queue design / management such as Amazon AWS or Microsoft Azure
- Insist on software development configuration and release management using GIT and code deployment tools such as Jenkins
- Proactivey manage the development process with Jira issue tracking and Confluence collaboration tools

You have
- Degree in computer science or equivalent experience
- 8 years or more enterprise software development experience
- Fluent in English

Get in touch at innovate@pelago.events